Sexual Assault Response Team (SART) Toolkit Cooperative Agreement

<http://www.ojp.usdoj.gov/ovc/fund/dakit.htm>

The purpose is to develop, pilot test, and disseminate a state-of-the-art technical assistance toolkit that will provide communities with information and resources to assist them in developing and administering a SART in their community.

GMS Application Deadline: May 6, 2004

Application Deadline: May 20, 2004

Eligibility Requirements: Eligible applicants are private, nonprofit organizations; public agencies, including units of state, local, and tribal governments; and colleges or universities that have a knowledge and understanding of sexual assault victimization issues; expertise in conducting national-scope information searches; and extensive knowledge of multidisciplinary collaboration. Applicants must also demonstrate their organizational capacity to successfully complete all phases of this project. Stronger consideration will be given to organizations that propose to hire a program manager specifically for this project rather than giving existing personnel the adjunct duty of project director responsibilities.

Maximum Award Amount: $150,000.

Number of Awards: One

Grant Period: 15-18 months.

Interoperable Voice Communication and Information Sharing: Research and Development, FY 2004 <http://www.ncjrs.org/pdffiles1/nij/sl000666.pdf>

NIJ seeks proposals for research in and development and/or demonstration of emerging technology solutions for interoperable voice communications and information sharing for use by public safety agencies. Through the AGILE program, NIJ is interested in technologies that will help public safety agencies address these issues and in understanding how these technologies could fit into a broader, national-level interoperability solution.

Application Deadline: April 27, 2004.

Eligibility Requirements: It is OJP policy that faith-based and community organizations that statutorily qualify as eligible applicants under OJP programs are invited and encouraged to apply for awards. Faith-based and community organizations will be considered for an award on the same basis as any other eligible applicants and, if they receive awards, will be treated on an equal basis with non faith-based and community organization grantees in the administration of such awards.

Number of Awards Made: NIJ's grant award process is highly competitive. The number of awards to be made depends on the availability of funds and the number and quality of applications received.

Youth Transition into the Workplace Grants

http://www.samhsa.gov/grants/2004/nofa/sp04006nofa_YIW.pdf

The grants can be used to document and evaluate innovative practices that provide addiction prevention and early intervention programs for employees ages 16 to 24.

Application Deadline: May 27, 2004

Eligibility Requirements: Eligible applicants are domestic public and private for-profit and nonprofit entities, including State, local or tribal governments; public or private universities and colleges; community- and faith-based organizations; and tribal organizations.

Number of Awards Made: It is expected that $2.0 million will be available to fund approximately 13 Phase I awards only in FY 2004. Phase I awards will be up to $150,000 in total costs (direct and indirect) per year for up to 2 years. Phase II awards (which are expected to begin in FY 2006) will be for up to $500,000 in total costs (direct and indirect) per year for up to 3 years. Awards for combined Phase I and II grants may not exceed 5 years. Proposed budgets cannot exceed $150,000 in any year for Phase I or $500,000 in any year for Phase II. The actual amount available for the awards may vary, depending on unanticipated program requirements and the number and quality of the applications received.

Development of Comprehensive Drug/Alcohol and Mental Health Treatment Systems for Persons Who are Homeless

http://www.samhsa.gov/grants/2004/nofa/ti04001nofa_homeless.pdf

The purpose of Treatment for Homeless grants is to enable communities to expand and strengthen their treatment services for homeless individuals with substance abuse disorders, mental illness, or with co-occurring substance abuse disorders and mental illness.

Application Deadline: May 28, 2004

Eligibility Requirements: Eligibility is restricted by statute to community-based public and private nonprofit entities. These entities include county governments, city or township governments, Federally recognized Native American tribal governments, tribal organizations, community-based nonprofit organizations (including faith-based organizations), and community-based State entities, such as State colleges, universities and hospitals, that propose to provide services under this announcement to the community. States are not eligible to apply under this statute. Current Treatment for Homeless grantees are not eligible to apply under this funding announcement unless their grant ends in September 2004.

Maximum Award Amount: $400,000 in total costs (direct and indirect) per year for up to 5 years

Number of Awards Made: 35

Residential Treatment for Pregnant and Postpartum Women and Residential Treatment for Women and Their Children

Substance Abuse Treatment and Reentry Services to Sentenced Juveniles and Young Adult Offenders Returning to the Community from the Correctional System Grant

http://www.samhsa.gov/Grants/2004/nofa/ti04002rfa_yorp.htm

The Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration announces the availability of fiscal year 2004 grants to expand and/or enhance substance abuse treatment and related reentry services in agencies currently providing supervision of and services to sentenced juvenile and young adult offenders returning to the community from incarceration for criminal/juvenile offenses. Applicants are expected to form stakeholder partnerships that will plan, develop and provide community-based substance abuse treatment and related reentry services for the targeted populations. Because reentry transition must begin in the correctional or juvenile facility before release, funding may be used for limited activities in institutional correctional settings in addition to the expected community-based services.

Application Deadline: June 15, 2004

Eligibility Requirements: Eligible applicants are domestic public and private nonprofit entities. For example, State, local or tribal governments; public or private universities and colleges; courts; community- and faith-based organizations; and tribal organizations may apply. The statutory authority for this program prohibits grants to for-profit organizations. While units of government may apply, they may not submit “pass through,” “umbrella,” or “cover letter” applications. This means that as the applicant, a unit of government, must take an active role in the oversight of the project, coordinate with the treatment services providers, and be legally, fiscally, and administratively responsible for the grant.

Maximum Award Amount: The average annual award will range from $300,000 to $500,000 in total costs.

Number of Awards Made: 12-14

Grant Period: Awards may be requested for up to 4 years

Office of Community Oriented Policing Service

COPS in Schools (CIS) Grant Program <http://www.cops.usdoj.gov/default.asp?Item=240>.

The Department of Justice's Office of Community Oriented Policing Services (COPS) announced the availability of the COPS in Schools (CIS) grant program, which assists law enforcement agencies in hiring new, additional School Resource Officers (SROs) to engage in community policing in and around primary and secondary schools. The program provides an incentive for law enforcement agencies to build collaborative partnerships with the school community and to use community-policing efforts to combat school violence. The SRO must devote at least 75% of their time to work in and around primary and secondary schools, in addition to the time that the officer's agency was devoting in the absence of the CIS grant.

Application Deadline: May 17, 2004

Eligibility Requirements: All state, local, tribal, and public law enforcement agencies, as well as jurisdictions serving special populations (e.g., university, public housing, and schools) that have primary law enforcement jurisdiction over a primary or secondary school are eligible to apply for a COPS in Schools grant.

Maximum Award Amount: Approximately $60 million in FY 2004 grant funds are available. The CIS program provides a maximum federal contribution of $125,000 per officer position over the three-year grant period, with any remaining costs to be paid with local funds.

EOPS Programs Division: Governor's Highway Safety Bureau

2004 Traffic Enforcement & Equipment for Large Cities Grant Program

The Governor's Highway Safety Bureau (GHSB), a program of the Executive Office of Public Safety, announces the availability of up to $300,000 in grant funding for local law enforcement agencies in large cities (over 75,000 population). This funding will be for traffic enforcement and related equipment and community education initiatives during national/state traffic safety and enforcement mobilization periods. There is a 75% soft match requirement for this grant program. This grant program will run through September 30, 2004. The grant announcement will be available at: <http://www.massghsb.com> on Friday, April 16, 2004.

Massachusetts' Heroin and Other Opioids Comprehensive Environmental Planning and Implementation Grants

http://www.comm-pass.com/Comm-PASS/Scripts/xdoc_view.idc?doc_id=016393

The Massachusetts Department of Public Health's Bureau of Substance Abuse Services (BSAS) and the Executive Office of Public Safety (EOPS), Safe and Drug Free Schools and Communities, have been directed, by the Massachusetts' Inter-Agency Heroin and Other Opioids Initiative, to request proposals from qualified Massachusetts' coalitions/collaboratives, throughout the Commonwealth, to develop youth focused Comprehensive Environmental Prevention Plan, or to implement an existing, Comprehensive Environmental Implementation Plan. A comprehensive approach recognizes that heroin and other opioids use does not happen in isolation and may be part of pattern of substance abuse that includes other drugs, including alcohol. The lead agency for each coalition/collaborative must be a municipality.

The Massachusetts' Inter-Agency Heroin and Other Opioids Initiative in partnership with Massachusetts state agencies helps to facilitate cities, towns and regions, and coalitions/collaboratives to develop comprehensive environmental primary prevention strategies focused on heroin and other opioids and may additionally address other substance abuse issues related to heroin and other opioids. Potential community stakeholders include: local government, law enforcement, educators, parents, treatment and service providers and others.

The goal of the RFR is to fund:

- 1) Approximately fifteen (15) new or recently formed diverse coalitions/collaboratives for up to $10,000 each to develop a youth focused plan to prevent heroin and other opioid use/abuse; and
- 2) Approximately five (5) experienced, diverse coalitions/collaboratives, for up to $80,000 each that has been in existence for at least one year, have a youth focused heroin and other opioid use/abuse plan in place, or in the final/end stages of development to implement that plan.

Application Deadline: May 28, 2004
